

Stefano Rodotà (Cosenza, 1933)

Professor of Law,, Università di Roma “La Sapienza”

President of the Commission on Environment

President of the Italian Data Protection Commission (1997-2005)

President of the European Group on Data Protection (2000-2004)

Member of the European Group on Ethics of Science and Technologies (1993-2005)

Member of the Convention for the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union (2000)

Visiting Fellow, All Souls College, Oxford

Visiting Scholar, Stanford School of Law

Professeur à la Faculté de Droit, Paris 1, Panthéon-Sorbonne (2006)

Laurea honoris causa Université « Michel de Montaigne », Bordeaux

Lectures and seminars in many european universities, in the Usa, Canada, Australia and Latin America.

Member of the Italian Parliament (1979-1994), of the European Parliament(1987), of the Parliamentary Assembly of the Council of Europe (1983-1994)

Among his last books: Tecnopolitica, Roma-Bari, 2004; Intervista su privacy e libertà, Roma- Bari, 2005; La vita e le regole. Tra diritto e non diritto, Milano, 2006.